We had a shower installed in 2015 by another distributor and a few weeks ago noticed a leak. I contacted this Bath Planet and Mike came out to see what was wrong. He identified the problem and promptly contacted the corporate office to discuss it with them. Even though he didn't do the initial installation, he sent Matt and Eddie over to fix the problem. They were running late due to problems on an earlier job, but they called and let me know well ahead of time. When they got here, they got right to work and did a good job, not stopping until they were finished. Matt showed me the problem and explained it to me before fixing it. He and Eddie did a fantastic job with the repair, and it looks like we have a new shower again. Because the shower was under warranty, the corporate office handled the repair and all labor costs. By evening everything was clean and neat, and we couldn't be happier. We appreciate that Bath Planet stood by their product and provided great customer service. This has been an excellent experience!

The end product was not nearly as rich looking as the price would indicate. I could have spent that money for tile work that would have looked better.

They are very professional, and Sue answered every question I had. She measured very well, and if she didn't have an answer for me, she found the answer.

I have been waiting for quite some time to redo my master bath, and this shower was the first part of the process. I am really happy with how it turned out. It looks so much more rich compared to the standard shower.

If they truly cared about how well they did, then whoever is in charge i.e. the owner or manger, would contact me and ask me what happened. When they crew left they knew I as not satisfied. I felt more that they were the company that got the job and then did come back. There is not a follow up.
