I first discovered David James Homes at a home show at the Salem Civic Center about 4 years ago. Since then I began talking with others who had their home built by them. The speed and ease of planning is why we ultimately chose David James Homes.

I think that David James of Winchester is very professional. Everyone is easy to talk to. When I first met Merile I thought to myself that this is an old country boy that will make sure that sh-t gets done right!! And it did.. He is a very nice man and takes the time to talk to you, which means a lot.. I would most definatly and have recommended these guys to people that have asked who done my home...

I think that David James did an excellent job and never fell short in any area, there will always be issues when dealing with different contractors that may get overlooked.

I was very satisfied with the whole experience from the start of the contract, doing the selections with Ashley was enjoyable, she made it easier than trying to pick out something for dinner, and its hard to tell what I would have ended up with if she hadnt have been there to help me.. And I have been around a lot of construction projects and had to deal with a lot of project managers that didnt have the time to answer the phone or meet at the site and discuss the project, but it wasnt the case with Clark, he almost always answered the phone, came out to the site to meet with me, payed attention to any issues that i brought up and got them resolved. He was more like dealing with a friend than a project manager and in my experience that is hard to find..

I was very stressed about how to pick the materials such as flooring, light fixtures, cabinets, etc. (this from friends that had built their own homes). DJH made it so easy. I could pick everything right there in the display room. When I had questions, they were right there to answer them. I actually picked everything out in two hours--I couldn't believe it and neither could my friends and relatives. I am loving my house.

Having several friends who have built homes over the last several years, including a friend around the corner from our new home, we were blessed with a great company to work with. They have all dealt with issues, work stoppages, mistakes that haven't been fixed, etc. From the start, David James Homes had what others considered upgrades, included in the base price. You build homes the "old-fashioned" way - without shortcuts.

As best as possible. As always there are the "unknowns" and I felt as though I was provided the necessary explanations to fully understand any impacts - but positive and negative.

I was very impressed with the various contractors who worked on the house. At the end of the day, they cleaned up the areas where they were working, ensuring the property was safe for us to walk through. Very impressed.

Ashley & Clark were wonderful to deal with - through the entire process. Clark - OMG - I feel like I've lost a member of the family. We spoke to him so much that his wife probably hates us. He made himself available, kept us up to date - wonderful to work with.
