Polite, efficient professionals. The drying machines were loud and hard to live with, but did the job. Some folks may want to go to a hotel; I didn't. Scheduling floor installers before the remodel contractors did their work (drywall, etc.) made for lots of dust on new floors, but floor installers were really good and easy to have in the house. Administrative phone calls from Mammoth were understanding, kind and responsive throughout. Mammoth did a great job and made the house whole again.

There were two ladies that came to my home and I don't think they could have sent anyone with more honesty and integrity than them.

They did an excellent job of cleaning up and getting rid of smoke on everything. They went the extra mile, like straightening up my closet and getting things better than they had been before. They were very friendly, cooperative and did a great job.

Nightmare. I will never work with this company again. Preferred vendor my a$$$. Horrible work, took forever, and cost too much.

Mammoth Restoration (Ohio) just didn't handle things in a good way. They actually caused more work than they helped with in the long run. Some of the things they did to my house was stuff that my insurance company wasn't willing to fix later. I was only using them to tear things out of my house after a fire. After they were done, we were going to either do most of the remaining work ourselves, or work with contractors to complete. I paid out of pocket for part of the stuff they did when they did the demolition because my insurance company wasn't going to reimburse me since it was not part of the claim at all. It was a bit of a nightmare. They ended up tearing out a lot more flooring than necessary, and then they stopped midway through. I'm not sure if they stopped because they found out I wasn't going to use them, but they left a lot of the job undone. It added a burden to something that was already a burden to me.

Timely start, but there was a big gap of time between initial cleaning and the reconstruction work. Workers were very professional.

There was one minor issue when they moved all of the damp materials. They were supposed to move it to rooms with ventilation, but when they left I discovered that was not the case and my stuff was ruined. Other than that everything was great!
