I would recommend Adams Homes in a heartbeat. They are great builders. The prices are reasonable. We went forward with it, and we got a beautiful, spacious home for a great price. It looks nice because it has the brick facing on the outside, making the exterior maintenance-free. I am very happy.

I was looking to build a house, and I was around the area. I knew there was a model there, but I never went in. My son and I decided to go in, and we were very pleased with the price. We started to talk, and that is how we got involved.
