Not satisfied with cleaning. Some clothing shrunk, stains, etc. Some items missing. No supervision by insurance carrier which will most likely make insurance costs go up.

Look no further for rug cleaning. This company will take care of everything you need at remarkably affordable prices. For those who have collected "oriental" rugs during travels or deployments and you need an appraisal - this is THE place to go. Great to work with the team. Everyone I encountered loved their jobs and were great at teaching some new knowledge for me as they showed me the finished products. Finished Work: I don't believe you can find any better place within 500 miles of Annapolis. The cleaning of a large deep pile Chinese carpet, with multiple stains of unknown origin (think "crime scene from incontinent pets and muddy shoes") was remarkable. We were stunned when we unrolled it to place it in a room. Were it possible I would say the rugs shined like a newly waxed Rolls Royce. Stop looking around. This is where you want your rugs treated with care.

Mr. Tyree Clark is a great asset to Cunningham's. Being distraught after a terrible flood to my basement, Mr. Clark made me feel that all was not lost, and Cunningham's would take good care of my belongings, and they did exactly what he said they would do. He presented himself very professional in picking up and returned my belongings.

Our experience with Cunningham's was terrific. Not only did they do an amazing job with our rugs, returning them in beautiful shape, but they also did an amazing job with upholstery. The thing that sets them apart, though, is the professionalism and friendliness of their staff.

Cunningham's Rug Cleaning made my rug soft again. I hadn't realized how much it needed to be cleaned. They came to the house, moved my heavy furniture off the rug and took it away to be cleaned. They also repaired a frayed edge and return the carpet, placing the furniture back where it went. They made the whole process very easy and I am really glad I called them.

The staff was friendly and courteous but I was disappointed in the condition of some of the restored items. Some towels still had a smell of mildew and I had to rewash them myself. Several pieces of clothing had stains that had not been removed so I ended up having to send pictures of those to my insurance agent to add to my claim as non-restored. I'm not sure the service is worth the price.

Cunningham's damaged or destroyed nearly every textile item that they touched. Every pillow came back shrunk, a precious heirloom peace was destroyed, and curtains were not hung properly. USAA has been notified, and I can only hope that they will make things right with us.

Our Annapolis Condo was severely damaged in a fire. Cunningham's came in and removed what textiles they could from the water and fire damaged condo. A few days later, I realized that our family's 78 year old Christening outfit was stored in a damaged closet. I called Cunningham's, explained the situation and that I was trying to locate our family heirloom. In less than one day, I received word from Cunningham's they had located the outfit & were sending pictures. They cleaned the family heirloom twice and took expert care of the cherished Christening outfit. Because of Cunningham's, our 6th grandchild expected in April, will be wearing the beautifully cleaned Christening gown. Thank you Cunningham's.

The staff was very friendly and organized and restoration to shoes was great but the our clothes were further ruined by the chemicals used and shrink or the feel was destroyed vs clothes we cleaned ourselves or took to the dry cleaner. Very unfortunate after losing so much to pay so much money for the clothes you thought you could get saved to be ruined for no reason.
