I couldn't have asked for anything more or a better experience from a builder.

From the onset of meeting Larry Meister and his wife they are both down to earth, good people. To show you what type of person he is our home had a potential water problem even before we bought it. I asked about the likelihood of the problem worsening and Larry promised he would take care of it. After a year they dug up the yard and put French drains in to fix the problem. This goes back to the good ole days where a handshake was your word. Not only am I pleased with the quality and craftsmanship but even more so with he and his wife's character. Builders leave their customers hanging with a lot of situations but not Larry. We've been here over 2 years but we still look back on his homes and rave about him.

They do excellent work. They are definitely the best quality for the dollar. There is no other builder in the area that gives you as many upgrades and standards. They just proved excellent work.

As far as builder, he is professional. He acts professionally. We have had some issues, but he handled it very well and helped us out with us being an out of area buyer.
