They ripped both of my couches, and never fixed it. They said they were going to fix it, but they never did.

A job that could be completed in a week was dragged on to 8 months. Project Manager made multiple appointments for inspections, estimates, work, etc. just to not show up without notice. No regards to the fact that customer had to take time off work for every appointment just to waste all day for nothing, without any decency to give notice of cancellation; very disrespectful. Project Manager never inspected the work in person during the job nor after the job is finished. Workers are skillful and neat but could use guidance from Project Manager, resulting them having to come back an extra day of work for minor details and finishing touch. Where again, no call no show to final appointment made, just to show up unannounced days later. Would never recommend Oakwood Construction to anyone. Horrible customer experience throughout the process.

This company has been a night mare to work with. I had three different project managers who quit or were fired by Oakwood. They don't last because they are given too many projects. Each of them would come to the house without having read what exactly was the scope and I would describe it to every one in detail with every visit. They didn't have enough subcontractors to do the jobs and have taken a year to do something that would have taken two months to complete. We were in a hotel for six months with no end in sight until I called them every day pushing for answers. I definitely got various people from top management promising to take charge and deal with them directly to get it completed and that usually lasted about a week before you never heard from them. Now it is a year, I am still waiting for the caulking to be fixed and the light fixture to be replaced, one they broke a year ago. Caulking, a simple task, was done three times in the bathroom and is periling off. Please please do not use them. I am about to talk to Alacrity who hired these contractors to do the job. Our home insurance was through Geico so not some cheap fly by night place.

They did a good job, as far as the water mitigation and covering the roof leak. I think that was great.

We were very satisfied. The work took a little bit longer. There were some problems along the way, but when they were here working, everybody we worked with--the floor painter, the plumbers, the painters, the drywall people, the inspectors--everybody did a very good job.

A well meaning team but very poor communication both within their company and with us. One hand did not know what the other was doing. The work turned out beautiful but a lot of confusion and aggravation. I live in a classic 1932 Spanish home in the hills of Los Feliz.... Oakwoods people were not familiar with how to keep the integrity of the design. Seems they are more comfortable with new homes.

I had an excellent experience with Oakwood after a plumbing/flood incident. Work was well done and completed in a timely manner. Lisa McKinney was my wonderful, communicative and respectful project manager. I highly recommend you request her as she was always quick to respond to any questions or concerns. Her vendors and sub contractors were excellent. She was a pleasure to do business with. Oakwood's team who packed and reloaded all of my furniture and personal belongings were absolutely amazing. Nothing was damaged, all was carefully labeled and every textile was cleaned and ironed and returned in better condition. Oakwood's office staff called to check in every week and estimator was always willing to go to battle with my insurance company to help get the most value out of my loss. I would highly recommend Oakwood for any remediation or repair work. Especially due to fire or water damage!! Bravo Oakwood!

Unresponsive staff. crew damaged home property and Oakwook management promised to resolve and have not followed through. Paining crew did sloppy work left paint blotches on walls, splatter on interior floor and left a mess behind. Oakwood as a contractor is very disorganized. Beware of working with them if recommended by your insurance provider.
