They worked hard and did not take breaks. They got the job done. I was satisfied with their work ethic.

HomeAdvisor brought them up as a recommendation. I then researched PureTree Construction, LLC through social media.

These guys do an excellent job. Even in the wake of Harvey when everyone was up to their elbows in alligators, PureTree found time to look into my little projects quickly and efficiently.

James and his crew always does an excellent job no matter what it is, and I won't use anyone else but PureTree. If they are busy on another project, I have no problem at all waiting until he can get to my project. It is much better to wait knowing you will get excellent work than it is to try an unknown company. I'm saving money now for several more Home projects for James to do, as I know he'll do them right!

The survey is not working as an HTML. I converted it to a pdf file. The numbers still cannot be checked, but now I can leave a written rating. #1 is 4

This situation did not occur. I was always pleased with their work and met my expectations, if not exceeding them.

James always listened carefully to what I needed done and walked the jobs out with me. We kept in touch during the workday to keep me updated on their progress on several large home projects.

I'm not exactly sure as I have been using James and his company long before they even changed the company name some years ago. It may have been through the Home Advisor, but I'm not sure about that.
