My incident happen August 25. Resolution happened after I advised I would be referring to an attorney by 11-25. The 3rd party Alacrity was the blame for not approving Servpro findings. Servpro assured me they had done everything according to their guidelines. Alacrity was the company giving all the push back which resulted in delayed process of my claim. The only issue I had with Servpro they sent pictures to my email but I was not able to see any of the pictures. Servpro was aware of the issue but has not addressed the issue. Servpro did what was expected of them but Alacrity dropped the ball. Servpro managers had to get involved to get this matter moving again. You decide who was at fault.

They showed up whenever they wanted to, always after 1100 AM. Never 2 days in a row. They would work for 2 or 3 hours and then leave to go to Home Depot and not come back for hours. Their original work was totally sloppy. They got paint on my furniture and my hardwood floors. They totally refused to mask work surfaces.

I do not recommend Servpro. From start to finish, my experience has been unprofessional, unreliable, and extremely disappointing. The water mitigation crew was unorganized and lacked communication. They delivered a dehumidifier that leaked on my wood floors, causing additional damage that wasn't there before. The restoration crew was even worse. The first team consistently arrived late, came without the proper tools, and seemed clueless about the work required. They were led by Nolan, who—according to my insurance company—was involved in insurance fraud, claiming repairs were completed that never actually happened. When a second crew was brought in, their work was so poor it now needs to be completely redone by someone else. This entire process has cost me significant time, stress, and money. After this experience, it does not surprise me that there are multiple lawsuits pending against Servpro. I would strongly advise anyone in need of restoration services to look elsewhere.

We contacted immediately for water remediation, but seems we could have taken my time to find a cheaper company, because according to the employees everything was trash and everything had to be gutted. We had just remodeled that apartment and they threw out everything. The apartment is now in studs. Even stuff that can handle water like brand new fixtures and faucets were discarded. Every contractor I have reached out, for estimate, says they went too far and now we are seeking legal counsel as our insurance is not paying even half of the cost to repair and replace. I certainly regret hiring this company and would encourage anyone to look elsewhere.

Worst experience of my life. Literally made me physically ill dealing with a company you trust stealing your belongings. They actually from the first day did not clean anything. They were just sorting through things they wanted to take. So incredibly disappointed. Sorry for anyone who makes the mistake of using them.

ServoPro was extremely difficult to work with I had a difficult adjuster who was eventually fired, but ServPro was just as bad. They failed at almost every level of my claim. They came in with a very nice project person that inspected and went over everything. That was the only good aspect of that ServPro did for me. They quickly disappeared once the project started. There was little to no communication with me and my wife. Every time we had concerns, it was met with defensiveness. We did nothing wrong. There was no understanding of the things we were discussing with them. After we fired them, we had the opposite results from another company. The project person involved could not communicate whatsoever with us. As a matter of fact, he avoided communications after a while. They use improper mold remediation techniques. A lot of the failure in the claim, is they do whatever Alacrity software tells them to do. They are not transparent in how Alacrity Solutions is used to manage the claim. There is no cookie cutter approach to mold remediation and reconstruction. When issues are involved, especially when it involves someone else. They were a total disaster. I would never use them again or recommend them to anyone. If they want to discuss it more to improve, I would be happy to talk about it. They have no idea how to handle contents that have been exposed to mold. Most companies say to dispose of different things and there is a way to clean contents. There are multiple approaches to it. I got full details from another company.
