I have a beautiful kitchen that now fully completes and blends with the rest of my apartment. I wish I had done this years ago.

We have used Morse for a major kitchen remodel and a smaller attic renovation. This was easily the most pain-free construction company I have ever dealt with and the workmanship is also top-notch. For any project where you want to finish on time and on budget with high quality work, I highly recommend Morse and his team.

Paul Morse has competed 8 remodeling projects since we moved into our house in 1985....finding complications in the walls, etc....always solved with professionalism, choices, and expertise! Crews are knowledgeable, courteous and efficient. Paul is always on hand to consult on surprises (large 100 year old house). I would not hesitate to recommend him for a variety of situations.

I'm still super pleased with my front entryway. I used someone else for my bathroom and very sorry - strongly recommend Morse.

Morse is known for having a great deal of repeat business, and it is obvious why: the company is excellent on all the key elements that go into a construction experience. Their follow through also goes on long after the job is complete. I cringe when I hear people's stories about an irresponsible contractor and would guide them to consult with and work with Morse.

It is rare to find a construction company that is as responsive, responsible and reliable as this one - and the people are down to earth and nice to work with. I wish they would give lessons to other organizations as to how to run a business thorough respecting the customer the way they do.

An exceptional combination of quality work, attention to detail, clear communication, and a real commitment to working with the client to lessen the burden of having construction in your home. The results are simply stunning, I just wish the rest of my house looked half as good or was half as sturdy as the parts they have renovated. Jobs come in on time, at or slightly under budget, and with great communication and minor adjustments all the way through. I've done three projects with them and wouldn't consider having anyone else touch my house. I've also recommended Morse to friends and co-workers. I'm very glad I found them.

Morse Const. started on the date they said they would and finished on the completion date. They were here every day on time and completed the job to my complete satisfaction. They did everything they could to hold costs in line with our budget. All in all a rewarding experience.

The area where I was most satisfied with Morse Constructions was the attention to making themselves as little as an impact on our lives as little as possible on the work.

I have worked with Paul on a variety of projects over the years. He and his crew have always been reliable and responsible. Paul presents an organized plan for each project so that one knows what is scheduled. Paul and his staff are talented craftspeople. In addition, Paul is a genuinely nice person and his work has held up well over time. I am always happy to recommend him to others.

Doing renovations with Morse Constructions was a good experience. Paul Morse took the time to understand what we wanted from the project and did a thorough quote for us before starting the work. Even our neighbors were impressed by the professionalism of the firm! We were always kept informed about the state of the project and when there was a problem with some work done by a subcontractor, Paul did not hesitate to make things right. We love our new space and will be coming back to Morse Construction for future needs!
