Their communication process was excellent - the lead communicated with me daily and Schroeder project staff came in for a weekly meeting. I got a lot of support for the selection process and I was impressed with the vendors they guided us to for products - especially Mosaic. The lead on the project couldn't have been more professional and knowledgeable - felt very comfortable having him in our home and working on our house. He was conscientious and talented - made the job run smoothly and felt like it was quality work. He came at the same time and left at the same time daily - and always left work areas clean and neat. I also loved the design process - Mike and Andrew worked well together and Mike was very thoughtful in coming up with the perfect plan to meet our needs.

Tom was an exceptionally talented and knowledgeable worker who gave us a lot of great advice and ideas. Don was a conscientious, meticulous, and honest project manager with whom we could always discuss openly issues and questions. Communicating and planning the project from overseas before we transferred back home was unexpectedly easy, productive, and effective via the website.

Originally (about 20 years ago) from a friend for whom they had worked; subsequently we had them do two different projects for us (in the 1990s), so we went back to them for this one.

Their integrity and the degree to which they personally invest and care about each project they do are invaluable. They stand behind their work and are always quick to respond to questions and/or concerns. I have used them for 5 projects and plan to use them again.

The entire Schroeder team was easy to work with and exuded professionalism. They made us feel comfortable through each stage of the process. We could not be more pleased with the outcome of our project. They helped us find the highest quality products within our budget and brought top of the line sub-contractors into our home. We were impressed with how knowledgeable each member of our team was, and how willing they were to make small changes to the plans if it meant more convenience for our family.

Every person I dealt with at Schroeder was exceptionally professional and customer-focused. The lead carpenter (Robbie) was an expert and meticulous carpenter and he ensured that the same high quality of the work he provided was also provided by all of the subcontractors. He was my eyes and ears when I wasn't there. The project manager (Don) seemed to know exactly what I wanted even when I didn't verbalize it. He was responsive and efficient. Fonda was extremely courteous and considerate during the design and planning phase. Stefanie was very kind and professional. And, Andrew was a pleasure to work with from the first day he contacted me until the very end of the project.

They have done four projects for us. The first project was in 1998 and we had heard of them through people we knew through our son's soccer team.
