Super nice group and very polite at all times, but I'm sorry, we cannot recommend them because there were just too many issues, re-dos, and time delays.

Comment from Amiano & Son Construction

We were very sorry to get this review. The year was personally and professionally a hard year at our company. As a family owned business there can be an impact. We did however go out there on the jobs ourselves as owners and work until it was complete. There are many clients we take on who come to us because another remodeler left them high and dry. The only reason the warranty work was delayed was because of the coordination of people while maintaining existing schedules. We have been in contact and have assured the client of warranty time frames.

Amiano & Son Construction gave us a quote with a 4 week completion date. It took 10 weeks with little explanation or urgency on their part. Workers were pulled off our job to work on other jobs and yet when we were weeks behind schedule many times only one person was here. The workmanship was very good and contractors very courteous however there seems to be a disconnect between the sales office and construction workers.

Comment from Amiano & Son Construction

I am so sorry that your experience with our company was not as anticipated. We really tried to keep everything running smoothly despite our shortage of employees in the field. We have taken great steps to correct the communications in our company. I can say it was a pleasure to work for you both. I loved your master bath and kitchen. It was a treat to sit with your adorable pooch while waiting for inspectors.

I can't sat enough good things about this company. The entire process was handled so professionally. Work was done exactly on time. Everyone one who worked on our kitchen was great, from project manager Pete to electricians, plumbers, painters, cabinet installers, countertop installers, everyone was extremely experienced in what they needed to do. I will tell you I will never go anywhere else for any other work I need done. We were so impressed that we were referring Amiano and Son to friends even before our project was done. The workers showed up everyday. I actually miss having them at the house in the morning. I love my new kitchen and would highly recommend them to anyone.

I would've like to have given them a better rating and would have if they followed through with their promises of completing all the minor repairs and settling a $500+ electric bill incurred 2 mos. prior to our coo. These problems are becoming a major headache to us!

Comment from Amiano & Son Construction

We have resolved all issues with this client. We had an employee who did not report back on many of the issues. We went out, met with Mrs. Capello , wrote up her list, then scheduled all agreed to work. Thank you again for your business.

They went above and beyond what was expected. Due to unfortunate circumstances, I returned home sooner than expected from a trip. I contacted Gianna and explained the situation and asked that I have a functioning stove and running water when I returned a few days later (2 weeks ahead of schedule). To my surprise, the job was completed and my kitchen was beautiful. A few minor details needed to be adjusted and they did everything to my satisfaction

Amiano and Son did a tremendous job with our addition. They made the entire process easy, from design, selection of kitchen and bath materials and the construction process itself. Everything was spelled out in a very detailed contract, they kept to the promised schedule, and quickly resolved any issues without dispute. We can (and already have) recommended Amiano and Son Construction to others.

This is the fourth project for which we hired Amiano & Sons Construction. The projects were a room addition, a master bedroom bath upgrade/remodel, a basement finish which included a wet bar, and most recently a powder room refurbish. All jobs exceeded expectations. We would strongly recommend the company to all who are looking for a contractor. We will certainly call on them for future projects.

In the Summer of 2014, we engaged Amiano & Son Construction to perform a major kitchen renovation. Given the nature of the project, we interview several builders. Amiano stood out for its willingness to be openminded and creative in the design concept. We believed we had the ability to transform a classic 1970's galley kitchen into a modern and open high end space. Other builders seemed either overwhelmed and/or disinterested in figuring out how to make our vision happen. Amiano was the opposite. They worked with thier architect to develop a design to open up the kitchen into the adjoining family room. Amiano also engaged the cabinet designer who assisted with island placement to make the new space would be even more usable and pleasing. Amiano also utlizes design programs that enabled us to see exactly what the kitchen would look like when it was completed. That gave us great comfort before embarking on the project - which we knew would be involved. During the project, we felt our project manager (James) really cared about the project and went to great lenghts to make sure it ran as smoothly as possible. He was meticulous about the quality of the work performed by the subcontractors and clearly cared about how we felt about the end product and process. Amiano delivered the project on time and on budget. And the end result really is fantastic.

From start to finish our experience with Amiano & Son was very positive. We did an addition & complete kitchen renovation. It took place during this brutal, long winter, which created some challenges, but everyone was concerned with our comfort & confidence in them to get the job completed. There were hardly any surprises so we really didn't stray from the agreed upon budget once it was set. We had never done a project this big before & weren't sure what to expect, but Lou & Dave were right on target & things went smoothly (except for the weather, but who's fault is that??) What impressed us the most was the professionalism & quality of everyone we worked with. They were all, sub-contractors included, reliable, respectful, & as unobtrusive when possible. Our lead carpenter, Dave, was absolutely amazing! He kept us informed, relaxed (not easy), & confident. He was always friendly, helpful, & really knows his stuff! He responded quickly to any & questions or concerns, made sure that the work site was neat & safe, & let us know what was going on at all times. Lou, the owner, kept tabs on us & made sure we were satisfied with the progress. From the very beginning, we had help in making all our selections, & they even had a designer who could consult with me on paint colors, finishes, & fixtures. We have been enjoying our new kitchen for about a month now. It's gorgeous... it's my dream kitchen! I am thrilled with the results. I would, & have, recommend Amiano & Son Construction, & would use them again if another project presents itself.
