Our pool since being installed at the end of last summer has never run correctly, pump burned out, main drain clogged by construction debris, some employees are great and some do just the minimum. One month after opening it this year and the system still isn't cleaning the water and removing debris. We get to wait another 4-5 days for someone to come out yet again.

My wife and I love our pool, and we enjoy it.

Everything was great except the terrible amount of rain that came down for weeks. But nothing that they could do about that.
