I can't say enough about John. If I call him, he is on top of things. He will come in and fix what he can. He never stops. He is on top of the community and works hard to make sure it is clean.

John and Jim were very on top of things. If we had any issues or concerns they took care of it that day and always called us back within an hour. They were fantastic to work with. They were professional, kind, courteous, and treated us as individuals. We know how busy they are yet they took the time to listen to us and were always helpful and concerned about meeting our needs and requests. Paul was just as kind and helpful. We were very pleased with the whole process.

We highly recommend EPCON builders for a high quality production home with so many upgrades available that it makes the home feel like a custom built one. There is no more professional and caring sales person than Gena Jones and no better project manager, by far, than John Picone.

Epcon did a great job in all stages of building our home, even after the closing. I would highly recommend Epcon for anyone looking for a 55+ community that is above and beyond the ordinary. The home designs are interesting and the materials used above standard. We are very pleased with the house, the process and the support.

Epcon Communities builds a very solid well constructed house. In comparison with other new communities in the area I feel I have received a well built home that is both attractive and comfortable with the amenities needed to age in place. Having seen other Epcon Communities in the area I fully expect the community will be well maintained and protect my investment.

Except for some items that need correcting, house is beautiful. However, errors in construction were made along the way and finishing work left much to be desired. Dave Leonard was attentive and co-operative in areas where he could help. House was not delivered as clean and sparkling as advertised,

The Epcon team is courteous, prompt, and diligent in all aspects of my interaction with them. Their choice of designs are excellent for targeted customers and I love my promenade style ranch home. The community center, swimming pool, and exercise facilities are excellent. I am particularly delighted by the low maintenance nature of these communities and I highly recommend Epcon.

I am very happy with the look and functionality of my home. The size is perfect for my needs, and I love the layout, especially the master sitting room and the large master bath and closet. I wasn't sure that I'd like an open plan layout, but surprisingly, I do . . . very much. For the money invested, the home seems very well built, and I was very happy with the large number of finish options available. I'm also happy that the community doesn't have that "cookie cutter" look! Excellent job, Epcon!

When you meet with your designer, it is set in stone, so make sure that you go through everything. I didn't realize that nothing could be changed once it was picked. Whether it is a sunroom or a four seasons room, make sure that you pick what you want because once it is picked, it is done and you can't go back and change anything. Everything else was a positive experience though and I can't wait to move into my new home.
