Mike Garabedian has delivered superior quality service in performing our recent home renovations and improvements. As a Graduate Master Builder, Mike has stayed on top of understanding up to date technical and material building options. His knowledge and experience has been invaluable in determining options to update and make repairs on our older home. We have been burned by bad contractors in the past, so Mike's expertise was well worth spending more than the "minimum" for the cheaper building contractor, and the warranty to go with it. We expect to need Mike's services again in the future, and we will not hesitate to call on him to help us with our "home improvement wish list". Thank you, Mike!
