The contractors that were used were not respectful of our property and they caused damage to our property that Georgia Water and Fire were not willing to take responsibility for. It caused us additional damage and work that had to be done that they refused to complete

All workers sent to my home were non-english speaking so communication difficult. Must always be aware of what materials are being used to avoid substandard quality of replacement materials. Some agreed upon things were not honored by contractor even with a second reminder. Once job was completed I have not had any response to 2 requests (for the same thing) to the contractor.

I was very happy with the quality of the work done and my interactions with Steve, our project manager Cody and all of the contractors. They went out of their way to work with me to get the damage from my 2nd story hot water heater break and damage repaired. Have already shared with others that they are the company to call!!

Unfortunately, We had a severe water leak two months ago. We had a plumber come in and make the repairs - actually repipe the whole house. After the leaks were repaired, we had our Insurance Co. recommend a contractor to repair the wallboard that was damaged in the 6 rom that were affected. When they were done we made a final inspection and found that the walls that were to be painted were not prepped - there were holes they just painted over and only one coat of paint was used when two coats were specified. We were also charged for replacing wall paper when wallpaper was removed and the walls repainted. I have had to hire another company to finish the project the way it should have been. The crew was very rude to my wife and she told them she did not want that crew back in the house - In fact I have fired them from this project. The crew's supervisor also called my wife a liar which really made her angry. I would not hire this company for anything any more.
