I had an insurance claim nightmare with the first contractor. Lastime Exteriors was able to come in and get my house resided in a matter of days. They were prompt, organized, courteous and listened to me when I explained what I needed due to the insurance claim. Their subcontractors were equally polite and worked to keep my yard as neat and tidy as possible during a whole house residing. I'd recommend Lastime Exteriors without hesitation and plan to have them back for additional work this summer.

The work got done, no question on quality of workmanship, but getting everything done was like pulling teeth, and it was just an elongated, stretched out, process and it made it far more difficult than you'd expect.

Excellent work. I wouldn't have anyone else work on my roof after my last experience.

It was the only company, out of seven that we spoke to, that could give us an answer to our problem, and get it taken care of.
