we really like the new windows in the living area-the smaller frames and solid glass really make for a fantastic view of the backyard-like having frameless eyewear!

Absolutely love my new windows. Installers were professional, knowledgeable, friendly. Did an excellent job, especially considering the original work order from the salesman was a brick installation and it was actually siding.

Comment from Lifetime Windows & Doors

Cheryl, Thanks for taking the time to leave a review. We sincerely appreciate your business.

The quality of the doors that we had installed, is great. There are just some adjustments that need to be made to them. The doors and screen sticks, we cannot even lock the door and there is a strip under the door that needs to be fixed. I want to love my doors, but right now I do not.

Great experience from the initial sales experience (including education of me as the customer who knew little about windows) through the installation planning and the installation itself. With the combination of the Marvin windows and the Lifetime team, my home has had a beautiful makeover. I only wish I had more windows to replace!

I was most satisfied with the fact that their staff was willing to work around the crazy schedule my wife and I had at the time. She was working on her internship for her master's degree, and I work nights. It took a while to get things scheduled, but they were totally willing to work around the insanity we had going on then. Mary O'Neill was my primary point of contact for scheduling. She was completely understanding with everything we had going on at the time, and was more than willing to help out in any way she could. She was absolutely great to work with.

The windows look nice on our home. We notice a great deal less outside noise and dust inside. The windows were so pretty inside, I didn't want to cover them up. We are happy Adam convinced us to get 2 picture windows instead of replacing them with what we had. The downside...the installers left a mess for us to clean up, and buyer beware of sales tactics of demonstrating a higher rating glass than what you actually get, making them very high priced windows compared to others.

Since the project was done at my parent's house and they don't speak English, everybody took time with them to make sure they understood.

I do business with a lot of companies because I run about 4 or 5 businesses. When you have a company like Lifetime Windows & Doors, they really knock your socks off. I was really impressed with this company, and Marvin is such a great company itself. The people and the owner. They really bend over backwards to do little things for people. They did an excellent job, and they actually put my ill wife on their private jet to get her to treatment in Minneapolis. They didn't have to do that, and it is really nice. It is outstanding that the company does things like that.

I would like to recognize Adam Johnson for his exceptional service. He was so knowledgeable on his presentation, and we had some really complicated situations for this project. I wanted to put a big bay window in the bedroom, and his father came over as well. I was impressed with both Adam and his father. Also, the stucco man was extraordinarily careful.
