Being new to AZ we did not know what would work in our yard. The 7th St location to the rescue. Matt & Stephanie came to our house to do a preliminary look which we finalized the next day walking through Moon Valley gardens. A couple of days later the tree trimming and planting crews arrived and in one day transformed our landscape into a 5 star resort. These people are the best!

It was Travis of the installation group that helped me with a second tree. Gave me a good deal on it after I told him I had left a message for Denise that she claimed she did not get. If it wasn't for Travis I may not have give a good review or done business with Moon Valley again,

Moon Valley planted a huge Pineapple palm that completely hid the house across the street. It's awesome. It looked so good I went back for a pair of med-fan palms.

Purchased two flowering bushes last year that did not survive the winter. This spring I purchased a small citrus tree and Moon Valley reduced the price nearly equivalent to the cost of the two bushes which I felt was more than fair.

Marz gets an A+ for going way above and beyond what I expected and I highly recommend working with him. The quality of plants was also superior. The planting crew however forgot to bring a plant, broke 2 pavers, stepped on my irises, threw away pieces cut out of my artificial turf even though I specifically asked them to be saved, and even though it was very windy and I asked about securing the new palms they did not do it. So several palms fell over and one palm blew over completely and was uprooted later the same day. 2nd trip I received no prior notice of arrival time nor a door knock upon arrival. They just went into my yard (I have a dog) and they planted 3 beautiful and expensive cacti in the wrong place and overhanging the driveway with no water well so they have already been run over and the water runs down the hill so they are not thriving. They also put a plant smashed up against my retaining wall with its roots showing and no well for water retention so it's dying of course, and they dumped buckets of dirt on my property without permission.

Manny was great to work with initially in considering what we were looking for and helping us pick out the right type of tree and the individual trees we wanted to be delivered. The installation was on time and smooth. Overall I'm happy with our experience.

Received a good quality tapu tree which has flourished after planting. The location in the backyard was on a slope. The team worked diligently to move the 36" box tree into position for planting while working past a wall and in-ground barbeque. The team showed can-do attitude through out.

We couldn't be more pleased with our decision to buy from Moon Valley. Our specimen trees looked great and the installation crew was the most professional, competent and friendly that we have ever had do landscape work for us. We highly recommend them for not only quality of plants but service on install and professional care guidance.

The crew buried my drip system and I did not notice until they left. I then had to pay to have the lines dug up and the dribblers replaced as they were clogged with mud and unusable. Even if I had noticed before they left, the damage was already done. I'm not a landscape professional, that's why I overpaid your company for plants...to have your professionals make sure the job was done correctly. As a side note, I bought several more far less expensive palms, hired someone off of Craigslist to plant them, and my yard has never looked better. My Home Depot palms also look much healthier than the palms I purchased from Moon...and I didn't have to pay extra for a 1 year warranty.

Crew was late but the office kept me updated. Office told me they would fu with me after and never did. I sent the gal an email with a picture of one of the bushes that I thought was planted crooked she never replied so I had to contact her again. Couldn't get anyone to look at it for over a week. Ended up being ok. Tree and bushes are doing well. After exploring prices felt I could of gotten the work done more cost effective.

I will not be visiting Moon Valley Nurseries anymore. The Moon Valley charges for consultations. A fact that we dislike very much. If I would have known that your store charges for consultations, I would have taken my mother to another nursery. Also, one of your associates told me that other nurseries also charge for consultations (he mentioned Armstrong). I called Armstrong nurseries and they told me they do not charge. I consider this a blatant misrepresentation on the part of the associate that told me this! jc
