We enjoyed working with Prima Construction on the remodel of our master bathroom, and we love the finished results! The entire team was professional and respectful given that they were in our occupied bedroom area on a daily basis during the project. They were easy to work with and accommodating on scheduling. I would recommend Prima to anyone looking for a quality and reliable contractor.

We are happy with our bathroom remodel done by Prima. Kim met our needs and wishes in terms of what sort of work we wanted done and kept within our budget the entire time. She addressed and resolved the few problems that arose quickly and satisfactorily. She sourced most of the materials (sink, countertop, tiles), which helped the project stay within budget. The cost of the project was very competitive and we felt we received a good value for the price. For someone on a tight budget, Prima is a great choice. One person in the Prima work crew was a bit lacking in experience, the only reason for the '4' versus '5' rating.

Prima Construction was amazing! They not only completed our project on budget and early, but made improvements along the way as they saw opportunities for changes. I feel like our project was better off because of them.

Supporting women-owned contractors is important to me not only to influence a male dominated sector, but as a woman I strongly prefer working with other women who are collaborative and leave their ego at the door. Kim was more effective even compared to other women contractors and by far every male contractor I spoke with who took over conversations, even just in a site visit to provide an estimate, she acknowledged me and never spoke down to or over me, and it reflects in the way she manages her team who were all kind and respectful as well. I had friends who worked with other contractors that I had also received estimates from who bulldozed through our conversation and bulldozed through their entire project, I'm grateful I went with Prima!

Cost was a source of anxiety for me going into a remodel, but Prima was consistently reassuring in cutting unnecessary work like fully updating electrical, working with existing studs and resources rather than replacing everything, and thoughtfully scoping the work to the core of the kitchen I needed and not insisting on a perfectly detailed entire first floor. Kim and Scott were great at listening and responding to our vision and providing their professional insight rather than imposing whatever trends or pet projects and taking over the project. I am particularly grateful for a few random ideas that they were very open and thoughtful to incorporate during the project.

I spoke with 5 contractors and selected Prima as a local women-owned business, familiar with old homes with a strong team, and helpful in recommending priorities around a limited budget, which made their estimate the lowest cost as well which was a strong consideration for me. Kim had great positive energy and was open to both offer creative ideas and work with specific requests in approaching the project. She helped cut unnecessary costs, reuse materials to maintain authenticity and prevent waste, and helped plan future phases of work for ideas that were outside of our immediate budget. I felt very taken care of as she worked with suppliers, scheduled friendly team members onsite daily, inspectors, and communicated regularly with me to give updates and navigate decisions along the way. Finished our beautiful kitchen-mudroom on time and on budget, including responding to multiple changes and work orders. I recommend without reservation and am already looking forward to another project with Prima!

We engaged Prima for a bathroom remodel within the existing square footage, removing a bathtub and installing a walk-in shower. All fixtures were replaced. There were bumps along the way including a leak during the liner test which leaked through the kitchen ceiling and some cracked tiles post installation - both of which Prima addressed and fixed promptly. The subs were courteous and did their work well. Kim was on the job site frequently ensuring work was completed in a timely manner and keeping us up to date with our project. Some of the aspects of our project including glass tile and a larger format glass door were not within Prima's standard "wheelhouse" but they were able to complete the project as we had envisioned. Communication was good and questions were answered quickly when asked. We would recommend Prima for straightforward kitchen and bath projects.

We are extremely happy with the results of our home remodel and the work that Prima Construction did in our home. From the start Scott did an assessment of the kitchen, living room and bathroom dimensions. He then created a panorama link on our phones so we could stand anywhere in the current rooms to see what the final project would look like but turning .360 degrees. Prima Construction creates a full schedule so you know what to expect. They also link the contractors and the homeowner to an App which allows them to communicate at anytime and to receive updated pictures when the homeowner is not home. Kim and Scott were a pleasure to work with every day! I highly recommend Kim and Scott at Prima Construction.
