They were in and out like they were supposed to be. I really have no complaints. I was trying to speak to one of the roofers though, and he didn't speak very good english. That was the only issue that I had.

The owner of Pruden Roofing worked well with me to ensure the project went smooth and that all my concerns were addressed. Went beyond expectations removing siding along the roof line (chimney) to get a better flashing installed in preparation for a planned siding change. Started the job a week earlier...

The night they pulled the old roof off it rained unexpectedly, Pruden brought in an experienced painter to repair the ceilings. He did an excellent job making the repairs.

I was most satisfied because they were able to work with the fact that we have an old house fan that we use occasionally, and vents on top of the house, and they accommodated that by putting extra eaves on the house, so that if we use the fans, air can get out of the attic
