They are an outstanding, professional company. I would not hesitate to recommend them to anyone. They go above and beyond what is expected of them and I cannot give enough positive feedback on their behalf.

We couldn't be happier with the way our kitchen renovation went! Steve communicated everything very well up front before the work started. When construction began he kept us informed with timely updates, and was open to discussing all options when issues arose. He has a good relationship with his vendors, and delivers high quality craftsmanship. My favorite thing is that he wants to get it done right - no shortcuts!

Steve Rush was helpful in the refining of the original remodeling concept. He added details to enhance our new kitchen. He was accommodating with the work schedule and didn't pressure me during the sales.

Sovereign Construction performed some work on our newly purchased home including replacing carpet with hardware, installing granite counter tops and piping propane to our new range. Everything was extremely well done. The work started when Steve said it would, all surprises were dealt with quickly and we weren't hit with any change orders we didn't specifically ask for. Since the first set of projects, we've already had Sovereign back a couple times, once for a foyer slate install and then to replace our front doors. For the doors, we weren't sure exactly what we wanted, but Sovereign drew up a couple different ideas and we eventually found what we wanted. He was very patient and we are very happy with the result. I'd recommend Sovereign to anyone looking for help from small projects to large additions.

Steve was most professional, the most professional renovator I have worked with in my ten-plus years in Philadelphia. He was timely, worked through the issues, and made great recommendations while delivering beyond the expectations that we had.
