Overall, I'm very pleased with Sunbridge. They were communicative, knew the permits, permissions, and people at the power company to contact. It all went very smooth. It is spendy, so be ready for that. The only fault I could offer was that the installation crew wasn't as organized and focused as I'd like.

All the personal were friendly, competent, and professional. This included the first meeting for the quote and information, and the installation. We had to do some major tree trimming and they came back and repeated their test. They took the time to make sure one understands their system and never gave the impression that one was taking too much of their time. It is evident that they all work as a well oiled (pun intended), team. :)

We compared price offers from 4 different solar companies, and Sunbridge was by far the best alternative. Further, they not only finished the project in less time than they had said it would take, they did it more cheaply, and passed the savings on to us. Their business model should be emulated by more companies, because it works. These people are extraordinary, in every way possible.

I selected Sunbridge after doing research and attending a presentation from an out of town company. They had a five star rating and on the approved list of suppliers from PUD. They have their own crew and are local which is important if you need service or warranty. Sunbridge met all my expectations. The sales process was simple with no pressure from Jim. Installation was on time, done very well and worked flawlessly. The installation team was friendly and communicated frequently during the process. Jordan, the owner as well as the staff were friendly, efficient and helpful. They continue to help with the rebates and incentives. I highly recommend Sunbridge. Stay local and don't be deceived by the many out of town firms.

I am very happy with my experience with Sunbridge Solar LLC. I got bids from 4 different installers and Sunbridge was willing to work with me on getting the right system on my roof for the right price. They were not the lowest bidder, but overall felt like the company I most wanted to work with. They were very responsive whenever I reached out to them for information. The installation was very smooth and the system is working well.

Sunbridge Solar fully met our high expectations, for good communication, workmanship and followup. A small (but important to me) factor: Without being asked, the project leader made sure that a couple of obstructions on the roof were dealt with in a way that avoided irregularities in the panel layout.

I was very impressed and satisfied with our solar project, Sunbridge Solar met and exceeded my expectations and delivered a superior project from estimating, design to installation. Each phase was done by highly skilled and professional staff. I met with other CPU certified solar companies and Sunbridge Solar was by far the best. I would highly recommend Sunbridge Solar to anyone that is thinking of installing a solar system.
