The complete package: Competence, courtesy, meticulous attention to doing a quality job, and staying with it until every punch list item was addressed - even picky and minor details...and I'm a picky customer.

Anthis is a very professional and highly competent painting company. I was extremely satisfied with their work and all who have seen my home since painting remark that it looks like I have new walls.

Anthis Painting turned my family house that my siblings and I grew up in, into the nicest looking house on the block.

Everything about their operation is very good. The wall preparation in particular is way beyond other painters, so that the finished product looks like brand new walls.
