I have used Tom for a few small projects around my house, including replacing a kitchen window, and all work is done efficiently and is cleaned up before he leaves. He's easy to work with, friendly and knowledgeable.

We found Tom's work to be of the highest quality. In addition his estimates of time and cost were on the mark even though additional tasks presented themselves during the project. I was most impressed that he didn't gloss over unexpected issues but made sure they were addressed properly.

Tom and Ted do great work. They are fastidious and aware of the potential pitfalls that arise in complicated work. They can fabricate pieces for structures like pergolas and newel posts.

We hired Tom to do a gut renovation of our kitchen. From the very first meeting, when he quoted the project, through the end, Tom's professionalism, expertise, quality, transparency, and efficiency was top notch. The depth of knowledge Tom and Ted bring to the table eliminates any anxiety about various projects since they usually complete the work themselves instead of sub-contracting everything out. Even when sub-cons are used, Tom is usually present to ensure everything is running smoothly and efficiently. Also, as a family with two young children, Tom and Ted are really great with kids (and dogs!) and make even extensive renovations as comfortable as possible. The end result speaks for itself, we receive tons of compliments from friends and family.
