I was so pleased with Copper Creek and especially Leslie! They were able to get all the work done in a very timely manner and before the holidays. I was so grateful. Not only this, but the work they did was excellent! (...and according to my husband i'm hard to please and a bit of a perfectionist!) So I was just thrilled that I didn't have to micromanage the project at all. They did a great job over all!

Unbelievable good experience with their people , from the switchboard to the top and everybody in between . Their sub contractors are as good as them .
Hard to recommend people much less companies, they are 100% quality operation . Thank you again

Initially no issues however, once we advised Copper Creek Construction we had decided to only complete the dining water damage project communication changed. Our project was completed 9/4/19 and we are being told a refund due is not being issued until 10/11. Copper Creek project estimator tells you they will provide a line item cost breakdown when the project is completed however, they will not give this to you. Billing dept tells you the same thing. A customer receives no explanation when costs increase. Workmanship completed on the project was very good.

They are probably rare as far as construction companies go. They are the most professional group that I have ever had an opportunity to work with. They expected from their standpoint, nothing less than excellence. From their staff, workers, and their subcontractors, everything had to be at the highest level, and they got nothing less. We never felt as though this job wasn't being done properly because it was being done better than we could have even imagined. It was a good project for us. They made us feel important, like their own family, and as though it was their house that they were fixing, and not just ours. I am glad the project is done, but I got used to seeing them all, and I miss them being here.

From start to finish, everyone I encountered from Copper Creek Const was courteous and very knowledgeable about the work to be done at my home. I was always made aware of subcontractor schedules, work progress and changes to the original contract. This was very important to me.
