I will definitely use them again. In Portland, it is hard to get quality people with all of the construction stuff. I would highly recommend them.

Working with Cecilia was a delight. She knows the business, managed and coordinated the project well, explained the process well to me and made it all very easy. A true professional. The painters on the team were courteous and professional and did a great job.

When I was getting bids, another painter told me he would recommend going with Fresh Coat's bid (instead of his!) because their work was great and he couldn't match the price. My experience was great start to finish - work was done on schedule, friendly crew, quick responses to questions, and everything looks great.
