We felt 100% confident in trusting Golden Corner to build us the home we could only have dreamed of. From planning through construction, in follow up to handing us the keys, we could not have been more satisfied. It is reassuring to know that there are contractors who take such pride in the process, in financial responsibility, and treat the home as if they were the ones who would take ownership themselves. Golden Corner was there for us when we needed them. Ron Tolley and the people who work for him are experts at what they do. They did a wonderful job on our project and they were able to complete it in a timely and efficient manner. The cost of our project was reasonable and we are extremely satisfied with everything.

This was our first experience in building a custom home and we were very satisfied with the process. Golden Corner Construction was honest and candid with regard to expected costs. Building our house was an exciting time and a very positive experience because of the way it was managed. We appreciate your dedication to turning our plans and dreams into reality. We are proud of our home and would recommend Golden Corner to any prospective home buyer.
