They did a great job of installing the windows fast. The installer went around the job site and looked for trim that needed to be repaired or replaced. He missed one, I tried to fix it and it doesn't look good. If they could fix that, it would be great. I know he had plenty of wood left, because he took some with him. I feel like he just didn't see it, because I know he would have fixed it. They did a good job.
