Great staff - Cassidy and Adam truly made the process enjoyable and stress free. Kevin and Ken both very helpful. We love the quality of the home and the value. The home is well build and the team used upgraded materials. Overall a very positive experience. The only issue we experienced was completion of the punch list items. Not all completed prior to closing and a month later we're still working through a couple of them.

The folks at Oxford Commons were great. Overall, a very good experience and we are very pleased with our new home. We really enjoyed working with Dawn the interior designer, she was great, we could not have done it without her. She made it all come together.

I loved the whole process from start to finish! The sales team was very knowledgeable and helpful and the design team listened and facilitated my design ideas. I needed to be in by a certain date and they did everything in their power to make that happen. I love the end result and plan on spending many years enjoying my home and new neighborhood.

Up to the point where the actual commitment to build was made the process was very good. The sales and design team were very patient and understanding with our decision making and timetable. However since we have signed our contract it has been very difficult to remain in contract with Oxford Commons. We live about 350 miles away and therefore checking on things is difficult. We have had no response from design or construction staff despite multiple attempts to reach via email and text. Our only salvation is that one of the sales staff I a personal friend and he has provided us limited information. There has been a change in staff at Oxford Commons and who we are now supposed to be in contact with and how we should reach them has not been made clear.

We were rushed in making our selections but it wasn't the fault of Dawn Lipscomb who has been outstanding. Our initial house in Oxford, MS, was built by a developer from Collierville, TN, who built the wrong house so we got our money back and went to see the people at Oxford Commons. We had a short time to meet with Dawn and others as we had prepaid for a trip to the South of France departing on 28 Feb '17. Dawn has been in touch with us throughout the construction phase and has made suggestions along the way. We are confident our new house in Oxford Commons will be to our liking and we look forward to closing on it in early Dec '17 as we'll be in Germany and Wales from 30 Sep - 5 Dec '17. My wife and I will be back in the Oxford, MS, area from 18 - 30 Sep '17 to make landscaping decisions with the assistance of Bo Smith.

From the beginning there were a lot of problems and mistakes, but they seem to be working hard to fix those problems as time goes by. I believe that they will get better and better at the process. The one thing that I would change is the business philosophy, because I feel that if they promise something, they should follow through on that promise. I feel that they promised a lot of things, but did not keep to them.
