Not only did Powell do quality work, they were flexible in incorporating our own ideas into the final product, which has been our family home for many decades and several generations.

Our project included a bathroom remodel, house painting, and large deck replacement. Powell was professional in the way the projects were planned and managed, and considerate and understanding of the stress and inconvenience to us as homeowners of having these projects going on. As questions and minor problems came up they were very responsive and supportive.

You will find the staff and subcontractors at Powell Homes to be top notch, friendly, professional and very competent. This company does it's very best to satisfy their customers with excellent customer service and pride in workmanship. Powell Care & Repair also did a great job at repairing any small punch list items on our new home. Thank you !

I have had my house for the last 13 yrs. We have had recent remodeling of the kitchen. Julie Powell came up with some good ideas for it. Everybody is very professional and does their job in an excellent manner. They know their business and they do it to the best. They are very good at what they do. They've done all projects both big and small very well. I've been in business myself for 40 yrs. I know what it is to run a business, and good employees are what it takes to make a small company work. I have not found one employee with a bad attitude.

Powell Care & Repair more than met all of our expectations. We were on a very tight deadline to get our house ready to put on the market and had 3 separate repairs that needed to be completed. Their rep was quick to troubleshoot our issues and be sure the repairs were done quickly and efficiently. Two subs were brought in that did high quality work in a short period of time. We could not be happier with the service and the very reasonable cost.

Our renovation was extensive and involved the entire house. From the initial home visit to the completion of the project Powell was professional, responsive and did quality work. Any issues that we had were addressed immediately and to our expectations. The project lasted over 3 months and was very stressful for us. However, Powell made the process bearable and that is no small feat. I would have no reservations in recommending them or using them again.

Powell Care & Repair is a wonderful tool for the homeowner. The quick or small project has always been an issue for the homeowner and, as our population ages, it will even increase in importance and need. Due to happy homeowner's repetitive usage of the Care & Repair division, Powell Custom Homes & Renovation will be in the homeowner's thoughts when considering bigger projects and/or when family and friends are in need of a building contractor.

For our home, we've worked with Todd and Julie Powell. Julie has helped us immensely with the flooring and cabinets. We've been really pleased with the solid oak. They have a real broad experience of paint colors and textures. Todd coordinates the building out. They have this superb person, Ryan who coordinates the work. He is an excellent guy to work with. He listened to all of my needs and got all of my needs done. They are really good at listening to what the owner wants.

I could not ask for a better person (Greg Cleaver) to come into my house and replace our hot water heater. He was friendly, knowledgeable, and professional. He wasted no time and he made sure the entire area was cleaned before he left. He explained all of his work and made sure I was satisfied, left his number and told me not to hesitate to call if something went amiss.

Rob Van Houten was the contact person from Powell Homes. He and Rob Bowen met at the house two times to go over the work that was to be done. In both cases the two guys offered suggestions on how to improve the outcome. Phone calls to each were promptly returned. The demolition of the old surface and pouring of the new concrete was done very efficiently. Cleanup after the pour was also very good. Luke Mohar provided a creative way to reposition the carport post. We're very pleased with the end result.
