Everything was fantastic, install went quicker and cleanup was better than we were expecting. Thanks for doing a great job!

At some areas, the installers decided to cover up the rotten sills without replacing them. There were nails sticking out of the moldings. The wood material used for the square molding around the windows was so bad that some had splits and rough saw marks, etc. The reinforcement done on the base of the sliding door, though, was a wonderful job. The lock for the sliding door was not adjusted properly; we needed to slam the door to lock it. The person who installed the aluminum trims did a wonderful job.

The team at WindowPRO not only helped us create a stunning entryway, they restored my faith that there are still quality companies that work hard and value their customers. The expertise and communication they provided was top notch, they were courteous and on time, and provided a top quality product. We have received many compliments on our new front door, and I would recommend their services to anyone!

Window Pro installers were great. They didn't break any of my marble sills while getting the old windows out. Which is more than I can say for other window companies. Very professional.

I am very happy with Window Pro/ Marvin windows - price and quality. Only problem was 2nd day of installation was not setup correctly and one piece of trim/sash was not available at time of installation. I had to call them back so they would finish, which they did - our new windows look Great! Thank you!

The salesman lied about the installation, they lied about it twice. The quality of work is very good, but the communication is a lot to be desired. They said 8-10 weeks, turn into 16 weeks. Besides that the company does good work and I like the job they did.

Comment from WindowPRO

We do very much apologize it took so long to get your windows installed. We are usually within the 8-10 week time frame because all our windows have to be made to the openings on the home. Again, sorry.

Window pro installed 2 windows for us 6 years ago and we contacted them to replace another window this year. There were problems getting an issue fixed with the previous window, but they finally got the right man for the job. The installer did a fantastic job putting in the new window and fixing a problem with the window above it.

We had 21 windows and a sliding patio door replaced. Prices were competitive and we were happy with the Marvin Infinity windows. One minor issue was the length of time it took to install all the windows. We recognize it is dependent on the size of the installation crew. The small crew we had were very good, but it took longer than expected.
